Therefore it will be very natural if England, before taking this step inquires what conditions the Russian commanders have been instruc-ted to demand. By approaching Russia again, England would be giving proof of her earnest desire to spare Europe further danger.

[Special correspondence of the New .] PORTSMOUTH, VA.,

The United States Life Saving Service was patterned after the English National Life Boat Institution and began its operations on the coast of Mass chusetts some time in October, 1872. It now embraces eleven districts and about one hundred and fifty stations. Each district is under the control of a Super-intendent and each station in charge of a keeper, who acts as coxswain and has six surfmen under his command, who man the life boat and patrol the beach. At each station, which range along the coast at equal distances from each other, a very comfortable and substan-tial house is built for the accommodation of the life boat's crew and the sto-rage of the boat, life car, mortar, lines, ropes, life suits and other appurtenan-ces of the service for rescuing shipwrecked mariners and caring for them after their rescue. The only

Of these stations there are three in Vir-ginia and seven in North Carolina. These were the stations over which the late Capt. J. J. Guthrie exercised supervisory care and it was in attempting to reach the shore from the seaward at station No. 7, near Nag's Head, when the Huron was wrecked, that he lost his

There is also a mortar for firing a line across the beam of a vessel in distress, which if secured by the crew of the stranded ships enables them to pull on board a large hawser, which being made fast to the mast, or if that should be lost, anything else on deck, communication can be established with the shore and

Nor does it pay the debt to plead the war, save as touching our ability. That was of our choice, and I hear no one who engaged in it complain of its losses, who engaged in it complain of its losses, though untold wealth was spent, and so many lives lost that Virginia is a great battle-field and a great cemetery. After four years of bloody fighting, the regret four years of bloody fighting, the regret was, to see the flag furled even in the midst of, and in view of more dreadful ruin. No complaint then of loss of property; only hope of victory. No complaint of suffering and privation, though famine stared them in the face; only sorrow for the fall. Were we willing now to hear one hundrally now. willing now to bear one hundredth part of what we then bore, the debt would have been well nigh paid, and a triumph ecual to the victory of arms would have signalized the patriotism and devotion of our people. But our people are not yet given over. I have not seen or heard of an individual bold enough to avow publicly or privately the doctrine of repudiation. I

Antique Errors,

In this enlightened age and land, find acceptance only with the prejudiced and ignorant. It is impossible, for instance, to persuade any large proportion of a people who have imbibed their ideas of logic in common schools and free academies, that it is expedient to cram their systems with mercury, rasp their bowels with colycinth and Jalap, or stupefy their brains with opiates, when a pure, effective, safe, botanic cordial like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which relieves every disorder for which the poisonous drugs have been heretofore prescribed, is within the reach of every one. Old fashioned remedies are rapidly giving ground before the advance of this conquering specific, and old fashioned ideas in regard to depiction as a means of cure, have been quite exploded by the success of the great renovant, which tones the system, tranquilizes the nerves, induces sound repose, neutralizes malaria, depurates and corriches the blood, rouses the liver when dormant, and promotes a regular habit of body.

Great disasters, these, he admits, and a bitter trial to those who have had to bear them, and who still suffer from their consequences. But he tells them that "the honor of a State is above all price," and reminds them in one forcible sentence that "States have est and have survived." The Sun goes on to say that he might State of Maryland, whose bonds de-Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, denies clined at one time to forty cents on the dollar, and that although there was firmed and strengthened their resolve that of any State of the Union-her bonds selling at from eight to ten per cent. above par. If any one needed an example of the effect of repudiating a just debt, the refusal of the State of Mississippi to recognize her endorse. ment of the bonds of the Planter's Bank, and the discredit that has attachsufficiently salutary lesson. Even the vacillation of Tennessee, and the sharp bargain that the politicians are urging the people to drive with the public creditor, may be cited as among the things that a State jealous of its integrity ought to avoid. Gov. Holliday has faith in the desire of the people of Virginia generally to deal justly with the creditors of the State. He will not believe that they will so legislate as to bring its good name into disrepute, and he makes it intends to guard the interest and the honor of his State with all the power and influence he can lawfully exercise Even from a selfish point of view he admonishes them that honesty is the best policy. The discussion that has been raised concerning the debt has already worked harm, and so long as the question remains an open one it will deter emigration, lower the standard of public morals, and encourage the clamor of demagogues. The entire address is of this wholesome character, and it speaks well for the people of Virginia that the conser vatism of the State has found in the new Governor an exponent at once so able and so just.

upon this subject says: "That Virginia is able to pay her debt we are perfectly satisfied. It is mere hypocrisy-partisan perversitythat says she is not. THE Burke Blade takes the New York Sun to task, remarking that it seems that luminary "never will let up in its denunciation of Hayes and his administration. It always speaks of him as the Fraudulent President and his Cabinet as de facto Secretary, so and so. Well, Hayes was installed by fraud-he was not elected by the people, and every body knows all that. But it was solemnly agreed to let it go as the Commission reported, and we are in honor bound now by it, though it was all a Wilmington Star: Mr. Taylor, keeper of the Federal Point Light House, states that he had a fine, fat duck for his dinner on last Saturday, which was procured under the following circumstances, being rather a costly duck to the Compression of the Periday night. Vicholl's administration in restering peace and prosperity to the "bull dozed" Louisiana parishes is afforded in a letter from W. H. Mr. Goodale, who is a graduate of Yale College, declares that there is no such organization as a "white league" in the parish, but, on honor and dignity and good faith of the the contrary, the very best of feeling State might be maintained. The debt was shouldered proof of the genuineness of this feeling and bravely carried, and to-day the is afforded by the fact that the school credit of Maryland stands as high as board, which has been appointed by the Nicholls government, consists of six white Democrats and three colored Republicans, who work harmoniously together, and that the vast majority of the whites not only approve of free schools for colored children in the abstract, but are willing to contribute liberally out of their own pockets to trumpet, and the result has ed to her ever since ought to furnish a build school-houses and supplement the salaries of teachers.

> IT may be that one at least, of the causes for the prostration of trade in this country, was the enormous sacrifice of human life during the war. At least one generation of the flower of the youth of this land was cut off-say one million, in round numbers. Now figure a bit on it. One million of men worth $500 at least to bring them to maturity makes 500 million dollars to start with; then their labor to the country at an clear that, so far as he is concerned, he average of $5 per week amounts to 5 millions, or 260 millions annually of money which would have been spent on the productions mostly raised in this country. Ten years since the war, at this rate and compound interest, would amount to over 5,000 millions. Now suppose we had added to our population of adults only 500 sonls weekly, see what an impetus it would give to the consumption on the spot of what has now to be sent from our shores. Look would produce in corn, fruits and so forth. It is incalculable. THERE is a pause in the Turco-Russian war, while overtures for peace are pending. It is very certain that unless the European powers do interfere in Turkey's behalf, and that quick, the Turkish government will not be able to maintain itself in Europe, but will eventually be obliged to withdraw inte Asia and abandon Constantinople and all Turkey in Europe to Russia. THE New York Herald of January 2, says: "Governor Vance, of North Carolina, spoiled a first class Southern outties. The Moffett register and some re- lage yesterday by reviewing and com-

The following awful warning is going the rounds: "A few years ago Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague paid $2,000 per yard for dress material. To-day her husband's paper sells for 2\frac{1}{2} cents on a dollar."

Mr. Dion Boucicault has just fitted up, says the New York correspondent of The Cincinnati Gazette, a new apartment, at an expense of $13,000. The bath-room, all marble and precious stones, is described as a wonder of luxury and magnificence.

Hints for the New Year : Dress Reform-A fashienable girl in Boston, with a rich father and well-to-do lover, has designed, cut, trimmed and made her own wedding-dress, taking every stitch herself. The richest point lace, a wedding gift, was the only ornament.

Some years ago Prof. Maury prophe sied that any alteration in the direction of the Gulf Stream would reverse the history of the world. According to European meteorologists this change is taking place, and the mighty oceanic The temperature of America is gradu ally growing warmer at the expense of Northern Europe.

The first thing is to make your ser-mon plain. Mr. Bloomfield preached on the text, "The fool hath said in his heart, 'There is no God." Wishing to find out how it pleased his people, he called a poor foolish man to the pulpit The reply, which made Bloomfield a sadder and a wiser man, was "Well, sir, I must say that I can't agree with you. In spite of all you've said, I think there must be a God." ad asked him how he liked the serr

The Tramp Question-A tramp, weary of his profession, and dismayed by the number of cold-shoulders turned upon him in Connecticut, has gone into a music store in Bridgeport, and sitting down before a piano, has rendered with ease and brilliancy, one of the most difficult scores. Sympathetic hands are now seeking to relieve his necessities, especially, as he confesses that he is a member of a titled German family, and that his godmother was a countess.

General "Bob" Toembs, of Georgia, is described as the possessor of a figure that is a model of manly strength and beauty, and of a head that Nature left rough-cast. Grizzled, unkempt locks are piled in disorder over and around his broad, high forehead, and the dark skin of his massive features is ploughed by deep lines. When excited his eyes glow, his arms are thrown rapidly and forcibly about, and he speaks in a high, sharp voice. He is an earnest Free-

Salvini says that twice in playing "Orosmane" he has stabbed himself in good earnest, so absorbed was he in his part. On one occasion the dagger pen-etrated to within half an inch of the heart. In neither instance did he know what he had done until the performance was over, but finished the scene with his stage robes dripping with blood. It is said that one odd peculiarity of the great actor is that off the stage he never can remember a single passage from any one of his many characters—before the feotlights he is no longer Salvini, but the man he represents, and he not only remembers his own part, but that of every other character in the piece.

Captain Raymakers, of the Belgian engineers, has started, at the expense of the King of the Belgians, for Central Africa. He will land on the western coast, at the mouth of the Congo, and direct his course toward the centre el the continent, with the view of meeting the Belgian expedition under Captain Crespal, which is to proceed from the eastern coast. The French Geographi-cal Society's expedition will leave France on January 15th, and land at the mouth of the Niger. From thence it will endeavor to cross to the eastern coast. I will be composed chiefly of African tirail leurs, under command of the Count de Lemale, a lieutenant of Turcos.

Fire at the Orphan Asylum. On Wednesday morning an alarm of fire was given at the Oxford Orphan Asylum, caused by the breaking out of flames in the dormitories on the third floor, which were occupied by boys. As there are neither fire-placesnor stoves in the dormitories, it is supposed that the fire originated from matches in possession of some of the boys. A large crowd quickly gathered and the flames were subdued before any considerable amount of damage had been John H. Young, No 49 Nassau street, and the subdued of one hundred thousand done. All the floors in the building are well supplied with barrels of water; but for this fact there might probably have been a serious fire.

The New Organ.

In the description of the exhibition of the organ of the Salisbury street Baptist church on Wednesday evening, by some oversight the name of the lady organist who presided at the instrument during almost the entire performance, was not mentioned. The lady who has for some years kindly acted as church organist and whose beautiful rendering of the instrumental part of the music so fully exhibits her musical taste and culture, is Mrs. Vass, wife of Major W. W. Vass. The new organ has only been erected a few days and yet from the entire command of the new instrument by Mrs. Vass the auditors would have believed that she had a long acquantance with it. We feel sure that her continuance of the position of organist will be a cause of great aatisfaction to the congregation of the

Proposed Line to the Albemarle

JAMESVILLE, MARTIN Co., Dec. 29, 1877. I have read with interest the recent editorials and letters on the subject of railways published in the NEWS. The proposed Raleigh & Seaboard Line does not prepose to cross the Wilmington & Yeldon Railroad at Rocky Mount, it runs about 4 miles south and is an inde-pendent line to Tarboro; and broad guage the same as ours. I reckon it would be a grave mistake to mix up the 8 feet guage with our 4 feet 81 inches, which can be constructed so cheaply in our State (as I have proved) and brings into unison with those roads already constructed. I calculate that an marked that he could set as many babies as he wanted to see, and more too, at any time, so the attendance of spectators was not large. In accordance that number hereafter. The expense of each orphan is about six dollars a month. This includes board, tuition and incidental expenses. But the Winter is much more expensive than Summer.

2. Our laws do not afford adequate protection to orphans. Many, who had a right to be rich, have been swindled out of their estates, and have learned to read at the Orphan Asylum. Some are (Special correspondence of the NEWs.)

read at the Orphan Asylum. Some are now bound to those who hire them out to the highest bidder. I was present when a little girl was bought from a man who had no claim on her but force. So long as our law-makers allow such cruelties to orphans, I suppose it would be a waste of time to ask aid for the Orphan Asylum. Yet the Constitution of the State makes it the duty of the Legislature to establish an Orphan Asyage politician contains a clause which forbids the taxing of voters to benefit —The Danville Daily News, one of our most spirited exchanges, comes to us this week much improved. It is taking the press dispatches.

It is taking the distance pretty quickly. This route has the double advantage of connection not spare anything for the orphans. One sensible pastor commenced a protracted meeting with a collection for the orphans. Another closed a protracted meeting with a similar collection. Both meetings resulted in permanent good meetings resulted in permanent good.

If the Lord had many were unable to gather all that their fields produced. A part of this abundance was sent to the orphans. and those who are favored with this world's goods above their fellows are simply agents. We should bear in mind that it is "more blessed to give than to receive," and that "the Lord loveth a cheerful giver." There are those among in who are suffering for those among us who are suffering for food, fuel and raiment, and those whose "eyes stand out with fatness" and who are rocked in the cradle of luxury, seem to look on with stolid indifference. It is hard for these who have not felt them to appreciate the pangs of want. Oh, it wrings a mother's heart to have no bread when her little darlings are hun-gry. Some seem to forget that the sensibilities of the poor are as tender and acute as those of the millionaire. How can we, with any tolerable degree of consistency, kneel around our family altars and importune our Heavenly Father to "Give us this day our daily bread," when one of His childrenpoor widow next door—is bending over a crust of bread and cup of water? Yet there are many who do it. How like "whited sepulchres" do these appear in the eyes of that charity "which suffereth long and is kind;" how like those who "have the form of Godliness and deny the power thereof."

How can'st thou sit amid the store Of luxury, and hear The hungry snocking at thy door, Without a pitying tear?

Oh! can'st thou turn away the walf—
Who comes with humble prayer—
To walk the friendless streets alone
In hunger and despair?
—H, V. PAUL.

The New York Gold Law.

Immediately after the passage of the Resumption act by Congress in 1875, the New York Legislature passed a law requring that all State taxes shall be paid in gold after January the 1st, 1879. A bill was introduced in the new Legis-(N. Y. Herald.) quring that all State taxes shall be paid in gold after January the 1st, 1879. A bill was introduced in the now Legislature yesterday by Mr. Sessions intended to modify but not to repeal or to impair the efficiency of that law. As the law stands it would cause great embarrassment in the rural districts by the difficulty of procuring gold for the payment of taxes. The bill offered by Mr. Sessions requires that the taxes be levied at gold rates, but that, instead of actual gold, they may be paid in paper money, the premium on gold being exacted if there should be one. The act was originally passed for buncombe and overlooked practical exigencies. Actual gold is not likely to come into general circulation even after resumption; for a while the banks will redeem their notes in greenbacks. The law of 1875 will be easily executed by the tax collectors of the State if modified in the manner proposed by Mr. Sessions.

was opened, and they kept on coming all the afternoon. But the very large number of babies in the town tended to militate against the financial success of the show; for the average man remarked that he could see as many babies as he wanted to see and more too.

It is now proper that the slanderous talk about Statesville not being a pro-gressive town shou d be withdrawn, and full restitution made. It is the first town in the South to have a baby show.

Attempt to Wreek a Train. [Charlotte Observer, Jan. 3.]

Last night as the passenger train on the Richmond and Danville Railroad arrived at a point about two miles this side of Reidsville, the eugine struck an obstruction on the track, which came in an ace of wrecking the entire train. The engineer stopped as soon as possible, and found that a cross-tie had been been an account of the wile and fastened. wia Tarboro' to the middle of our road and in the centre of the country between the Roanoke and Tar rivers would not exceed 90 miles in length; thus bringing the Capitol of the State within 100 miles of the deep water on the Pamlico, with direct and free access to the sea, through Hatteras Inlet, say, 60 miles further. Of this 100 miles, 11 are in successful operation on our road, about 8 are laid with iron from Tarboro' to-

A Gentle Hint. In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature-rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a sin:le day—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so trequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and per-haps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup er any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you.
